Cellular Phone Exploding Services

Shadow Hacker Group

In designing the GTA Online Spy Satellite DLC, a few potential optimizations were discovered. The optimizations in this document use the in-game cell phone that is provided to the players to kill the player with their own cellular phone.

The Cellular Phone Exploding Service is not a cellular phone bomb. The Shadow Hacker Group, through the spy satellite, will offer a Cellular Phone Exploding Service to turn the cell phones in the state of San Andreas into explosive devices. The player's cellular phone is also accessible to the Shadow Hacker Group. Thus, the player's cell phone can also be made to explode by the Shadow Hacker Group.

The players in GTA Online would unlock this service as part of the GTA Online Spy Satellite DLC. The player could be given an anti-virus software upgrade, exclusively for their mobile devices. The anti-virus software would have strong encryption. This upgrade would be optional, but available to purchase.

The anti-virus software would be available to purchase from the Shadow Hacker Group. Once the software is installed on a player's cellular phone, the player's cellular phone cannot be made to explode by the Shadow Hacker Group.

When this happens, the Shadow Hacker Group would select a nearby pedestrian to perform the Cellular Phone Exploding Service. This is because the Shadow Hacker Group would have access to all of the cellular phones in San Andreas.

The Shadow Hacker Group would always be able to select pedestrians with cellular phones that do not have strong encryption anti-virus software on their cellular phones. Once the pedestrian with the unsecure cellular phone is selected, the cellular phone is turned into an explosive device by the Shadow Hacker Group.

The Shadow Hacker Group would always select nearby pedestrians, in order to achieve this ability with all of the cellular phones in GTA Online's city of San Andreas.
